Banking loans and deposits

June 2016

August 9th, 2016

Banco de Portugal publishes today in table A.9 of the Statistical Bulletin and in BPstat, statistics on banking loans and deposits vis-à-vis non-financial corporations and households for June 2016.

Loans

In June 2016, the loans granted to non-financial corporations and households continued to show negative annual rates of change (a.r.). The a.r. stood, respectively, at -2.5% and -3.0% (Chart 1), compared with -2.4% and -3.0% in the previous month.

The evolution of the a.r. in Portugal contrasts with the one observed for the euro area, where the a.r. reached +1.2% and +2.1%, on loans granted to non-financial corporations and to households, respectively. In the first case, the differential on a.r.

reached in June the highest value this year, 3.7 percentage points (p.p.), while in households' loans slightly decreased, standing at 5.1 p.p..

Deposits

The households' deposits placed with resident banks increased by 1 309 million euros in June, adding to 140.7 billion euros at the end of the month. This increase was reflected in an a.r. of 3.6% in June, lower than the 4.2% in May (Chart 2).

In the euro area, the a.r. on households' deposits was +10.4%. The differential on the a.r. increased from 5.7 p.p., in May, to 6.8 p.p., in June.
