08 March 2018

Today, Banco de Portugal publishes statistics, in Table A.25 of the Statistical Bulletin and in BPstat, on issues of debt securities and shares for January 2018.

In January 2018 net issues (gross issues minus redemptions) of securities by residents reached €2.5 billion. This amount is mainly accounted for by positive net issues of debt securities (€2.3 billion) (Chart 1).

By institutional sector, the general government stood out, recording net issues amounting to €2.2 billion. Financial corporations also posted positive net issues (€1.0 billion), partly offset by negative net issues (€-0.6 billion) recorded by non-financial corporations (Chart 2).

The outstanding amount of securities issued by residents reached €460.7 billion, increasing by €5.2 billion from December 2017. This increase was due to positive net issues and valuation effects, mostly of shares, issued both by financial and non-financial corporations (Chart 3).

The outstanding amount of securities issued by the general government reached the highest value in the respective historical series, standing at €190.1 billion (Chart 4).
