13 April 2017

Today, Banco de Portugal publishes statistics, in Table A.25 of the Statistical Bulletin and in BPstat, on issues of debt securities and shares for February 2017.

In February, net issues (gross issues minus redemptions) of securities by resident entities stood at €1.4 billion (Chart 1). This is largely the result of the highest net issue of banks' quoted shares since July 2014, to the amount of €1.3 billion.

As regards debt securities, the general government institutional sector had the highest positive net issue since August 2016, reaching €2.3 billion (Chart 2). Conversely, debt securities issued by banks had negative net issues, to the amount of €2.3 billion, which were partially compensated by issues of shares.

In February, the balance of securities issued by residents increased by €5.1 billion to €422.9 billion (Chart 3). Valuations of non-financial corporations' shares and public debt securities, of approximately €1.8 and €1.7 billion respectively, contributed to this increase (Chart 4).
